SAVES RULE CHANGES FOR 1975

Baseball's Scoring Rules Committee has revised the Saves Rule which has been in effect for the past year. The new rule 10.20 reads as follows:

Credit a pitcher with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions:

- (1) He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club; and
- (2) He is not the winning pitcher; and
- (3) He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
 - (a) He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning; or
 - (b) He enters the game with the potential tying run either on base, at bat or on deck; or
 - (c) He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

No more than one save may be credited in each game.

THE DESIGNATED HITTER

In the American League, a batter may be designated to bat for the starting pitcher, and for all subsequent pitchers in any game without otherwise affecting the status of the pitcher(s) in the game. A designated hitter, for the pitcher only, must be selected prior to the game and must be included in the lineup card presented to the umpire-in-chief. He must always bat in the position assigned him on the lineup card.

It is not mandatory that a club designate a hitter for the pitcher, but failure to do so prior to the game precludes the use of a designated hitter for that game.

The designated hitter may be used defensively once the game is underway, continuing to bat in the same position in the batting order, but the pitcher must then bat in the place of the substituted defensive player, unless more than one substitution is made . . . in which case the manager then must designate their spots in the batting order. Once a designated hitter assumes a defensive position, this move shall terminate the designated hitter role for the remainder of the game. It is to be emphasized, though, that the designated hitter is 'locked' into the batting order. No multiple substitutions may be made that will alter the batting rotation of the designated hitter.

Pinch-hitters for designated hitters may be used. Any substitute hitter for a designated hitter himself becomes a designated hitter, and a replaced designated hitter shall not re-enter the game in any capacity.

A runner may be substituted for the designated hitter and that runner assumes the role of designated hitter.

Should the game pitcher be switched from the mound to a defensive position, this move shall terminate the designated hitter role for the remainder of the game.

Once a pinch-hitter bats for any player in the batting order and then enters the game to pitch, this move shall terminate the designated hitter role for the remainder of the game.

A designated hitter may not also be used as a pinch-runner.

Except for designated hitters, all pinch-hitters, and those for whom they hit, will be governed by the adopted official playing rules.

The designated hitter is eligible for all American League batting titles.

TWINS' FARMS PACE MAJORS IN '74

The five minor league affiliates of the Minnesota Twins posted the top overall won-lost record in professional baseball during 1974, according to an audit of the final standings of each of the eighteen leagues in operation in the National Association during the season.

Twins' farms won 347 games and lost just 264, for a percentage of .568. The Texas Rangers were next best to the Twins at .565. The first seven clubs in order of success, in fact, were American Leaguers, and the top four were West Division clubs! The standings:

EARNED-RUNS RULE

The determination of earned-runs is as follows:

'An earned-run is a run for which the pitcher is held accountable. In determining earned-runs, the inning should be reconstructed without the errors and passed balls, and the benefit of the doubt should always be given to the pitcher in determining which bases would have been reached with errorless play.'

Until 1969, the reliever could not be charged with an earned-run if he entered the game after the side could have been retired but for an error, no matter how many runs he subsequently gave up in that inning. Now, runs scored by batters who reach base off the reliever are charged as earned on that pitcher's record. They are not, however, charged as earned against the team as a whole. Therefore, a discrepancy may occur between the total earned-runs charged against a team and the sum total of the earned-runs charged against the individual pitchers of that team.

ROOKIE DEFINITION

A new rookie rule with slightly more liberal standards than the previous regulation written in 1958 was put into effect beginning with the 1973 season. This definition provides that a player shall be considered a rookie if he has not exceeded 130 at-bats or 50 innings-pitched in a previous major league season or seasons, and if he has not accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a major league club or clubs during the period of the 25-man player limit (excluding time in military service).

Under the old rule, a player who exceeded 90 times at-bat or 45 innings-pitched, or who had spent at least 45 days on a major league roster during the 25-man player limit period, could not be considered a rookie. This rule was written at a time when big league teams played 154 games and when there were only 16 clubs in the majors. Now, there are 24 major league teams playing a 162-game schedule.

Calvin R. Griffith

PRESIDENT AND CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

Chief operating officer of the Minnesota Twins and vice-president of the American League, Calvin R. Griffith is one of a very few owners of major league baseball clubs who serve as their own general manager.

Mr. Griffith's 51 active years of association with the professional game uniquely qualify him for this dual role. He began his career as the batboy for the Washington Senators' baseball club which won the World Series in 1924.

From that beginning, the youthful Calvin worked his way up the ladder in various capacities until he assumed the ownership of the team on the death of his uncle, Clark Griffith, on October 27, 1955. Part of that advancement along the way was spent in the minor leagues, where Calvin served three seasons in the diverse job assignments of field manager, secretary and president of the Chattanooga, Southern Association, affiliate of the Senators. From there, he shifted to the Charlotte team of the Piedmont League and served two seasons as president as well as manager of the club on the field.

Perhaps it's because of this minor league experience that Mr. Griffith has always stressed the need for a strong farm system as the answer to a successful major league operation. The Twins have averaged an expenditure in the neighborhood of $1,300,000 annually on their player development program in the belief that success doesn't just happen. The results of this outlay have been tremendously gratifying to the Griffith organization as it's been primarily players who've come up through the club's minor league system who've been responsible for the Twins having played contending ball in virtually every season of their operations in Minnesota. They've performed at a .533-clip (1201-1054) over those fourteen seasons, a figure exceeded significantly only by Baltimore over that span in the American League, and just slightly by Detroit and New York . . . but by none of the clubs in American League West.

The 1974 season was a banner one for the Twins' minor league affiliates, promising continued good things on the field for the Twins in the American League. Griffith clubs in five minor leagues won 347 games and lost 264 for a .568-percentage, best of any major league system. Unquestionably, several of those players responsible for that fine achievement will graduate soon to the major league level to accent once again the importance of Mr. Griffith's 'grow your own' philosophy.

Calvin R. Griffith, nee Robertson, was born in Montreal, Quebec, Canada, on December 1, 1911. His father died when he was a youngster, and he and his sister Thelma, now Mrs. Thelma Griffith Haynes and co-owner of the Twins, were brought to Washington to be adopted by their uncle, Clark Griffith, in 1920.

Calvin received his education at Staunton Military Academy and at George Washington University, where he lettered in both baseball and basketball.

Mrs. Griffith is the former Natalie Niven of Charlotte. The couple has three children . . . Clark II, a vice-president and member of the club's board of directors, and daughters Corinne and Clare. Clark III, the Griffiths' only grandchild and son of Clark and Karen Griffith, joined the family on October 23, 1972.

Manager

QUILICI, Francis Ralph

'Frank'

No. 43

Born May 11, 1939, in Chicago, Illinois. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 177 lbs. Batted and threw righthanded. Married. Lives in Burnsville, Minnesota.

Unswerving belief in his players paid off for Frank Quilici last year when his Twins rebounded, after dropping to a low of thirteen games under .500, to pound down the stretch at a 56-41, .577, clip and carry the race with the A's and the Rangers right down to the final week of the season.

After compiling a 26-39 record through the first game of the June 23 doubleheader with Chicago, Quilici's Twins started their spurt. From that point, they played at a pace which was a game better than the record turned in by Oakland and four-and-a-half games better than Texas . . . the only West Division clubs besides the Twins which played at a better-than-.500 clip over that stretch.

Quilici's success as a manager is in large measure due to his dedication and loyalty to his players. He held with that philosophy through the trying 1974 spring training period and the difficult first two-and-a-half months of the season. His patience was rewarded starting on June 23.

The young players upon whom Frank had vested his confidence began to come of age about that time, and they played with a veteran's assurance over the remaining months of the season. Virtually the entire squad, by the way, can be included in that 'young players' reference, since only Tony Oliva, Rod Carew, Bert Blyleven, Danny Thompson and Steve Brye date back as Twins to the team's last West Division championship in 1970.

A Twins' player and coach before becoming manager of the club on July 6, 1972, Quilici has maintained a year-round home in the Twin Cities with his wife, Penny, and four youngsters since first coming to Minnesota as a player in 1965. And Frank, since he's the type of person who puts back into a community beyond his share, has made an off-the-field name for himself in the area by his dedication to, and willing participation in, charitable and civic causes.

MORGAN, Vernon Thomas

'Vern'

No. 44

Born August 8, 1928, in Emporia, Virginia. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Batted left, threw right. Married. Lives in Orlando, Florida.

The veteran of the Twins' coaching staff, Vern Morgan has been on the lines for the Griffs since 1969, coming up to the big club after thirteen seasons as a player or manager in the organization's minor league system. Morgan was a baseball and football star at the University of Richmond before signing a professional contract with the Chicago Cubs, for whom he played in 1954 and '55. Vern holds the longevity record for Twins' coaches over the years, and is pre-dated in continuous service in the American League by only five other active coaches... Baltimore's George Bamberger and Billy Hunter, Jim Hegan of Detroit, Kansas City's Harry Dunlop and Elston Howard of New York.

Born July 14, 1924, in Newberry, South Carolina. Height: 5 ft., 6 in. Weight: 160 lbs. Batted left, threw right. Married. Lives in Newberry.

Third base coach for the Twins since 1972, Ralph Rowe has a 33-year background of professional baseball experience to draw upon as he works with manager Frank Quilici and fellow coaches Vern Morgan and Lee Stange in seeking to extract maximum production from the team's up-and-coming young squad. Rowe's primary concern in squad workouts is batting instruction, an area where he's recognized as one of the finest teachers in the game. And, he's never too busy to lend an ear to the problems, personal or otherwise, of the younger players, many of whom played under Ralph during their minor league days. At the conclusion of the 1975 season, Rowe will have acquired the necessary four years of service to qualify as a vested entry in the Players' Pension Plan.

(Awarded annually to Twins' most outstanding farm system player)

1970—Mark Wiley, p (Auburn)	1973—Craig Kusick, lb (Tacoma)
1971—Steve Brye, of (Portland)	1974—Butch Wynegar, c (Elizabethton)
1972—Tom Smithson, c (Lynchburg)

Born October 27, 1936, in Chicago, Illinois. Height: 5 ft., 10 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Batted and threw right-handed. Married. Lives in Bloomington, Minnesota.

Named Twins' pitching coach on November 19, 1974, Lee Stange returns to the organization in which he got his start in professional baseball and with which he first broke into the major leagues in 1961. Stange, in fact, is the only 'original Twin' on the present club, having been a member of the squad that put Minnesota into the majors on April 11, 1961, in New York. He left the Griffs on June 15, 1964, going to Cleveland with outfielder George Banks in a trade for pitcher Jim Grant. Lee subsequently pitched for Boston and Chicago in the American League before retiring as an active player at the conclusion of the 1970 season. After a year as minor league pitching instructor in the Boston system, he joined the Red Sox as pitching coach in 1972, a position he held until rejoining the Twins. Married to the former Miss Diane Dahl of Minneapolis, Stange has made his home in the Twin Cities throughout his career in the majors. A high school teammate of former NFL star Ray Nitschke, Lee attended Des Moines' Drake University on a football scholarship before electing to sign a professional baseball contract. With the Indians on September 2, 1964, Stange tied the major league record of four strikeouts in an inning. He appeared in the World Series for the Red Sox against St. Louis in 1967.

ALBURY, Victor

'Vic'

P No. 20

Born May 12, 1947, in Key West, Florida. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married. Lives in Key West.

Although a spell of arm trouble cooled him off in mid-season, southpaw Vic Albury's rookie 1974 season was an extremely promising one for him and for the Minnesota Twins. Given his first big league start on April 29, Albury pitched creditably until his shoulder began to give him trouble in late July. Starting on September 5, however, he came back strong, pitching at a 1.35 ERA-pace over that last month to brighten Twins' hopes in their search for a solid lefthand starter.

Originally a first baseman in the Cleveland organization, Vic came to the Twins from the San Diego system in the minor league draft on November 30, 1970. During the recent off-season, Albury twirled for the Caracas club of the Venezuelan Winter League.

BANE, Edward Norman

Born March 22, 1952, in Great Lakes, Illinois. Height: 5 ft., 10 in. Weight: 171 lbs. Bats right, throws left. Married. Lives in Scottsdale, Arizona.

Coming off a strong season in the Pacific Coast League, where he finished sixth in the ERA tables, lefty Eddie Bane could be ready to capitalize on the great collegiate promise he showed at Arizona State, where he was college baseball's 'Player of the Year' in 1973. Knowledgeable beyond his years about the art of pitching, Bane placed highly in all the PCL's mound categories last year. He was the Twins' first choice in the June 5, 1973, free-agent draft and was shortly thereafter signed to the largest bonus contract ever offered by the Twins to a pitcher. Eddie's first big league appearance was a start that July 4, and it attracted the largest throng ever to witness the Twins in regular-season action at Metropolitan Stadium . . . 45,890.

Born March 13, 1954, in Lawton, Oklahoma. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 206 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Single. Lives in Lawton.

An All-Star selection in each of the past two seasons, big first baseman Randy Bass certainly would have been an All-Star in 1972, as well, had the Florida East Coast League selected such a club since he led that circuit in homeruns, doubles, total bases, rbi, runs-scored and walks, while placing second in the batting race. He's led each professional league he's been in in homeruns and also set the fielding pace for first basemen last year in the Carolina League, as well as in that 1972 season. Last year, too, he ran away from the field in runs-batted-in. So, Bass has exhibited a history of leadership ever since he was signed to his first Twins' contract by scout Bill Messmann after the free-agent draft of June 6, 1972, in which Randy was the Twins' seventh choice in the regular phase. That August, he was named as Topps 'Player of the Month' in the Florida East Coast loop.

The bellwether of the Twins' pitching staff over the past five seasons, Bert Blyleven nonetheless turns just 24 years of age as the 1975 season gets underway. Although he got off to a slow start in 1974, Blyleven finished well, coping 12 of his last 20 decisions to wind up sweeping Twins' pitching honors for the second year in a row in the important categories of wins, strikeouts and ERA. Those 20 decisions were reached in his last 21 starts, commencing on June 24, during which Bert compiled an earned-run average of 2.35 to finish the season with an ERA under 3.00 for the fourth season in a row. He was fourth in the league in this respect, and second in strikeouts. On seven occasions during the '74 season, the Dutchman struck out 10 or more batters to give him a career total of 25 such games. He reached his career high on August 30, when he K'd 14 Boston batters in a 4-hit win. Bert also tossed the third one-hitter of his career on the Fourth of July, when Texas' Toby Harrah hit a 3rd-inning homerun to keep the tall righthander from an entry into the Hall of Fame. The Twins' player representative, Blyleven is now fourth in career victories by a Twin and eleventh in the long history of the Griffith organization. Among the Twins, Camilo Pascual is his next target at 88, while old-time Griffs' pitchers Jim Shaw (83), Sid Hudson (88), Alvin Crowder (98) and Case Patten (104) are also conceivably within Bert's sights in 1975. In strikeouts, Blyleven is second only to Jim Kaat among Twins, and fourth behind Walter Johnson (3508), Pascual (1885) and Kaat (1851) among organization pitchers all-time. Bert has 21 shutouts to his credit going into 1975, just two shy of Kaat's club record. Johnson, of course, holds baseball's all-time mark of 113. In career ERA, Blyleven is 71st among all big league pitchers over the years (11 of them pre-1900) who've pitched as many innings as he. Just three actives . . . Tom Seaver (2.47), Jim Palmer (2.72) and Andy Messersmith (2.73) . . . are ahead of him.

Seven games into the 1974 season, burly Glenn Borgmann took over as the regular Twins' catcher for what promises to be a long and distinguished career as a major league backstop. Already blessed with an outstanding throwing arm and a sound rapport with his pitchers, Borgmann also developed into a consistent clutch-hitter for the Twins in '74, repeatedly coming through with key basehits in game-deciding situations. Defensively, Glenn led league catchers and established a new team record for receivers, committing just two errors over the season for a .997-percentage, a point better than the previous mark set by George Mitterwald in 1970. And, with just four passed balls charged against him, Borgmann helped the Twins tie the New York Yankees for fewest passed balls in the American League during the season, 7. Glenn entered a new league last October, when his wife, Linda, presented him with the couple's first child, Glenn, Jr.

BOSTOCK, Lyman WesleyOF No. 10

Born November 22, 1950, in Birmingham, Alabama. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Single. Lives in Los Angeles, California.

Third in the Pacific Coast League batting race last year, outfielder Lyman Bostock comes to his first big league training camp with a certainty of jumping with both feet into the Twins' outfield competition. A speedster who can hit one out occasionally. Bostock made remarkable improvement defensively after being switched to centerfield in mid-season last year by Tacoma manager Cal Ermer. A Coast loop All-Star selection, Lyman joined the professional ranks after having been named to the All-Tournament

Team of the NCAA small college division national championships in 1972. His San Fernando State aggregation won that championship in each of his last two seasons there. Although not selected until the 26th round of the free-agent draft of June, 1972, Bostock's rapid progress as a pro more than bears out the confidence expressed in him by scout Jess Flores, who'd followed him patiently ever since his days at Los Angeles' Manual Arts High School. Scouting reports from his play with the Aragua Tigers of the Venezuelan League last winter indicate that Lyman continues to progress . . . in fact, at an accelerated rate!

BRAUN, Stephen Russell, III 'Tooter' OF-3B No. 4

Born May 8, 1948, in Trenton, New Jersey. Height: 5 ft., 10 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Married. Lives in New Hope, Pennsylvania.

Whether he plays in the infield or the outfield, it seems to make no difference in the remarkable batting consistency of Twin Steve Braun. Positioned primarily in the outfield last year, Braun remained in the league batting race with a .300-plus bat-mark into September. Over the last three seasons, in fact, his average has never been below .275 after the very early days of the schedule. Steve's 'on-base-average' has consistently been among the loop's best over the years, as well, his .361 of 1974 being second on the club to league-leader Rod Carew. Braun was credited with seven 'game-winning-hits' during the season, and also produced two 4-hit games. The third baseman on the big league All-Rookie Team of 1971, Steve handled the switch to leftfield quite well last year and, in fact, tied Steve Brye for the tops in assists, 10, by Twins' outfielders. Itching to put things together for 1975, Braun reported to the Caracas Lions of the Venezuelan Winter League in December to assist that club in their pennant drive and to assure himself of a top effort for the Twins right from the start of spring training.

BRYE, Stephen Robert 'Steve' OF No. 11

Born February 4, 1949, in Alameda, California. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 188 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Oakland, California.

The top fielding outfielder in the American League in 1974, when his .9968-percentage beat Ted Uhlaender's 1969 club record of .9965, the rapidly-improving Steve Brye was nosed out for major league honors by Cincinnati's Pete Rose, who posted .9972. Brye committed his only error of the season on September 2, in Texas, breaking a string of 112 errorless games for him. Steve has, in fact, been charged with just seven outfield errors in 343 games with the Twins over the years, reflecting a sure-handedness gained from his early minor league days when he was used primarily as an infielder. At the bat, Brye continued to show improvement in 1974, compiling the highest average of his big league career . . . he's shown a percentage increase in each of the five seasons in which he's played for the Twins . . . and leading the club in doubles. Steve becomes a vested member of the Players' Pension Plan this year on July 26.

BURGMEIER, Thomas Henry "Tom" P No. 19

Born August 2, 1943, in St. Paul, Minnesota. Height: 5 ft., 11 in. Weight: 180 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married. Lives in Lenexa, Kansas.

Quick as a cat and a fine all-round athlete, lefty Tom Burgmeier provided a big boost to the Twins' bullpen corps last year. It was really a comeback effort for Burgmeier, in fact, since he'd spent most of the 1973 season in the minor leagues before he was obtained by the Twins that fall in a trade with Kansas City for pitcher Ken Gill. Tom is the tenth of eleven Minnesota natives who've played for the Twins during their previous fourteen seasons in Minnesota. He starred in several sports at St. Cloud's Cathedral High School before becoming a baseball professional with the Houston organization in 1962. Burgmeier has pitched almost exclusively as a reliever since coming into the American League as a rookie with California in 1968. He started two games for the Angels that season . . . losing to Oakland, 8-4, April 26, and dropping a 6-1 decision in Detroit, August 28. Since that last start, his 258 big league appearances have all been in relief. Curiously, in his last full minor league season, Tom led Pacific Coast League hurlers with 15 complete games. His top performance among 28 scoreless outings in 1974 came on May 29, when he limited Boston to three hits over six innings to pitch the Twins to a 13-inning, 5-4 win.

BUTLER, William Franklin 'Bill' P No. 17

Born March 12, 1947, in Hyattsville, Maryland. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 210 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married. Lives in Stephens City, Virginia.

A pleasant surprise for the Twins last year, southpaw Bill Butler was resurrected from the minors on May 4, when his contract was purchased from the Tacoma affiliate. Although used frequently in relief, Butler's star shown best when he was used as a spot starter . . . most notably on August 4, when he held the World Champion Oakland A's to six hits in a 2-1 win that salvaged the nightcap of a twinbill for the Twins. Named to the Major League All-Rookie Team while with Kansas City in 1969, arm trouble plagued Bill from that time until his return to the bigs in a 'Twins' uniform. In fact, the renewed strength in his arm was never more apparent than it was in his last outing of the season, September 28, when he fanned eight California batters in a 5.1-inning relief stint. On June 30, 1966, Butler had a no-hitter over the seven scheduled innings for Rocky Mount against Raleigh in the Carolina League, but lost in the eighth, 1-0. Last winter, the lefty pitched for the Caracas club of the Venezuelan Winter League, whose pitching coach, ex-Twin Camilo Pascual, helped Bill with his curveball.

CAMPBELL, William Richard "Bill" P No. 24

Born August 9, 1948, in Highland Park, Michigan. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in San Diego, California.

Tied for fifth (fourth in the A. L.) in the major leagues' relief pitching sweepstakes last year, lanky Bill Campbell posted a total of 27 fireman points . . . 8 wins, 19 saves . . . to give the Twins their most dependable bullpener since the heyday of Ron Perranoski. Campbell led the club in pitching appearances and in only 18 of them was he scored upon. In fact, he started out with a bang by not allowing a run in his first ten outings, through April 28. The 'stopper' in manager Frank Quilici's arsenal, Bill's achievements during the season were fittingly recognized when he was honored as the club's 'Pitcher of the Year' in a post-season vote of the Twin Cities Baseball Writers. Possessed with a variety of 'heavy equipment' on the mound, Campbell got his tools together literally over the winter months by attending a heavy equipment operators school in San Diego.

The first American Leaguer since Ty Cobb to win three straight batting titles, and the only active major leaguer with four such crowns to his credit, speedy Rod Carew also has the unparalleled distinction of having been voted to a starting position on his league's All-Star Team in each of his eight seasons in the majors. Cobb is the only other American Leaguer ever to win three consecutive bat championships. He won nine straight from 1907 to 1915, and then three more in 1917-18-19. In the National League, only Stan Musial, 1950-52, Rogers Hornsby, 1920-25, and Honus Wagner, 1906-09, won at least three in a row. Cobb (12), Wagner (8), Hornsby (7), Musial (7), Ted Williams (6), Cap Anson (4), Dan Brouthers (4), Roberto Clemente (4) and Harry Heilmann (4) are the only players ever to win as many as four big league batting titles until Carew came along. In posting the highest A. L. average since Williams' .388 in 1957, Rod also increased his career mark 7 points to .323, second among actives only to the .327 of 1974 National League batting king Ralph Garr. Carew led the league and set new club records in basehits, singles (180), and bunt hits (29) last year, while tying the club record for sacrifices (13). In September, Rod equalled his personal career high with an 18-game hitting streak, which was also the tops for the Twins in '74. He had four 4-hit games during the season to give him 24 for his career, just two less than Tony Oliva's club standard. Twice during the season, Carew stole three bases in a game to tie the club record. During the month of May, 1974, Rod batted at a .425 clip, the best month of his career, exceeding the .413-figure he totaled in April of 1969. He led the league in 'on-base average', .433, and was second to Larry Hise in 'game-winning hits' for the Twins, with 9. Carew is 13th all-time in total hits for the Griffith organization and should pass George Case (1294) and Bucky Harris (1295) in 1975. At season's end last year, he was voted his club's 'Most Valuable Player' for the third straight year by the Twin Cities Chapter of the Baseball Writers, and was also named as second baseman on The Sporting News' American League All-Star squad.

When Ray Corbin beat the Chicago White Sox, 3-2, last June 20, he extended his winning streak over two seasons to ten games to tie the Twins' club record for consecutive wins, a record which had been established by Bert Blyleven over the 1971 and '72 seasons. Corbin started his streak by winning his last five decisions of 1973, starting with a relief win over Oakland on July 26. Ray's finest outing of 1974 came just a year and a day after he started his skein, however, as he stopped Catfish Hunter and the Oakland A's in a strong 6-1 effort on July 27. Originally signed as a free agent by veteran scout Ellis Clary, Corbin has been invaluable to the Twins' pitching staff over the past four seasons as a 'swing man' between the starting crew and the bullpen. . . 52 of his 163 game-appearances have come in a starting role. Ray's first strikeout of 1975 will be the 300th of his big league career. Last fall, the Florida native began an off-season career as a sales representative of the Hormel Co., working out of their Twin Cities office.

DARWIN, Arthur Bobby Lee 'Bob' OF No. 2

Born February 16, 1943, in Los Angeles, California. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 200 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Bloomington, Minnesota.

The power backbone of the Twins in 1974, slugger Bob Darwin led the club in homeruns for the second year in a row while also setting the pace in runs-batted-in and tying Larry Hise for the team lead in triples. Darwin placed fourth in the league in homers, in fact, and fifth in the rbi category. Bob hit a pair of homeruns in a game on four occasions during the season, and also had four 4-hit contests . . . the most noteworthy of which came on July 17, vs. Milwaukee, when he tied the club record of 12 total bases. Reflecting the confidence that comes with the experience of three full seasons as a major league hitter, Darwin's batting average in 1974 never dipped below his season-ending figure of .264. The respect he evokes from opposition pitchers, in fact, is sharply pointed up by his runaway club leadership in times hit-by-pitcher, 14. As he's done in each of the past several years, Bob played winter ball during the off-season, this year wearing the uniform of the Aguilas club of the Dominican League. And, as has been his habit in those winter seasons, he led the league in homeruns. With three-plus seasons as an outfielder and parts of two others as a pitcher in the majors, Darwin qualifies as a four-year pensioner this season on June 29.

DECKER, George Henry, Jr. 'Joe' P No. 21

Born June 16, 1947, in Storm Lake, Iowa. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Eagan, Minnesota.

Posting the top win-percentage on the Twins' starting staff in 1974, strong-armed Joe Decker teamed with Bert Blyleven to give the Twins an outstanding one-two pitching punch. The two, in fact, tied for the club leadership in starts (37) as Decker never missed a pitching turn throughout the season. Except for the fact that he tied Dick Stigman's dubious 1964 team record of having been shut out five times, Joe might have broken into the ranks of the 20-game winners in what was just his second full season in the big time. Decker blanked Milwaukee on 8 hits, May 7, but probably his finest performance of the season came in a 2-hit, 1-0 loss to Kansas City, September 7. Getting more impressive with each year of experience, Joe's first inning-pitched in 1975 will be the 600th of his major league career. Although born in the Twins' stronghold of Storm Lake, Iowa, Decker moved with his family to Petaluma, California, when he was just getting started in high school. After pitching his American Legion team to the finals of the California State Tournament, Joe matriculated at Arizona State University but elected to sign with the Chicago Cubs after that club made him their eighth choice in the first-ever free-agent draft selections of June 8, 1965.

FERRER, Sergio 'Cucho' SS No. 1

Born January 29, 1951, in Santurce, Puerto Rico. Height: 5 ft., 8 in. Weight: 140 lbs. Bats both, throws right. Married. Lives in Puerto Nuevo, Puerto Rico.

An exciting performer who batted .311 in spring training for the Twins last year and then scored from second base on a sacrifice fly to win the season-opening game in Kansas City, Sergio Ferrer was optioned to Tacoma on May 22, but only after it was determined that a need for more experience was the only factor separating him from eventual major league stardom. The little guy handled Pacific Coast League pitching with little difficulty and then went on to gather more experience over the winter as the shortstop of the Bayamon club of the Puerto Rican Winter League, where he batted .276. An 'all-out' type of player, Ferrer uses his speed to great advantage, as evidenced by his impressive annual stolen base figures.

FORD, Darnell Glenn 'Dan' OF No. 15

Born May 19, 1952, in Los Angeles, California. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Los Angeles.

Obtained by the Twins last October 23, with pitcher Dennis Myers, from the Oakland club in exchange for first baseman Pat Bourque, speedster Dan Ford is certain to make a strong bid for a Twins' outfield berth in 1975. Oakland's first choice in the June, 1970, free-agent draft, Ford has good power and exceptional speed and, in 1972, led Pacific Coast League outfielders with 16 assists. An Army veteran who attended Southwest Community College in Los Angeles at one time, Dan was named to the All-

Star Team of the Midwest League in his first season, 1971. He operates a grocery store in partnership with his father-in-law during the off-season.

GOLTZ, David Allan 'Dave' P No. 30

Born June 23, 1949, in Pelican Rapids, Minnesota. Height: 6 ft., 4 in. Weight: 210 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Fergus Falls, Minnesota.

Dave Goltz capped off the season of his 'arrival' as a major leaguer with a brilliant 2-hit shutout over Texas, last October 1. And, in winning eight of his last thirteen decisions, Goltz appears on the verge of rewarding the faith maintained in him by scout Angelo Giuliani, who first spotted Dave in a backyard warm-up session in Rothsay, Minnesota. With the arm miseries that haunted him throughout his eight-season professional career seemingly behind him, Goltz for the first time comes to spring training as a regular in the Twins' pitching rotation. Last spring, he was optioned to Tacoma to work out the kinks in his arm, but was recalled on May 4. From that point, his strength and confidence increasing by the day, Dave began to produce the kind of results that've been predicted for him ever since Giuliani recommended his selection as the Twins' fifth draft-choice of June 6, 1967.

GOMEZ, Luis 'Looney' SS No. 25

Born August 19, 1951, in Guadalajara, Mexico. Height: 5 ft., 9 in. Weight: 150 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Los Angeles, California.

A fine defensive player, Luis Gomez was purchased by the Twins from their Tacoma affiliate last April 27, when it was necessary to put Danny Thompson on the disabled list, and the lithe Mexican shored up the Twins' infield with his fine shortstop play over the next two months. A star at UCLA, Gomez was drafted seventh by the Twins in the free-agent selections of June 5, 1973, and, on the recommendation of scout Jess Flores, was started out in tough AA competition in the Southern League. Although born in Mexico, Luis was reared in Los Angeles, where he was an all-sport standout at Belmont High School.

GORINSKI, Robert John 'Bob' OF No. 33

Born January 7, 1952, in Latrobe, Pennsylvania. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 213 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Calumet, Pennsylvania.

The Southern League's All-Star leftfielder in 1974, big Bob Gorinski led or tied for the league-leadership in homeruns, total bases, rbi and sacrifice flies as he rebounded from an off-year in 1973 to establish himself once again as a top-flight major league prospect. Gorinski was the Twins' first draft-choice in June of 1970, after an outstanding high school athletic career in which he gained scholastic All-America honors in football. He was signed by scout Floyd Baker to the largest bonus contract in the history of the Griffith organization. Although signed as a shortstop, Bob was converted to the outfield in his first professional season and both that year and in 1974, he led his league's outfielders defensively. Last June, Gorinski was cited as 'Topps' 'Player of the Month' in the Southern League. This is Bob's second spring training sojourn in Orlando, as he also trained with the Twins in 1973.

HISLE, Larry Eugene

OF No. 9

Born May 5, 1947, in Portsmouth, Ohio. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Portsmouth.

Leading the Twins in slugging percentage (.465), outfielder Larry Hisle enjoyed the finest season of his career in 1974, and came into his own as a standout major leaguer. Hisle placed highly in several of the league's offensive categories, and he tied Bob Darwin for the club leadership in triples. In an unofficial but meaningful statistic, Larry posted a .523-percentage in 'ability to advance self,' second on the Twins only to Rod Carew's .538. Hisle tied two team single-game records in '74 . . . on April 5, Opening Day, he was credited with two sacrifice flies, and on June 12, he picked up two triples in a game against Baltimore. But the most telling statistic in Hisle's 1974 portfolio is the fact that he led the club with twelve 'game-winning hits,' easily the top figure on the squad. On July 5, and again on July 12, the one-time high school basketball All-American collected four hits in a game. Larry's acquisition by the Twins in a trade with St. Louis in the fall of 1972 is a tribute to the Twins' scouting department, whose reports extolled his talents even though he'd been returned to the minors by both the Philadelphia and Los Angeles organizations.

HUGHES, James Michael

'Jim'

P No. 31

Born July 2, 1951, in Los Angeles, California. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in Los Angeles.

Matched against Ferguson Jenkins in the final game of 1974, rookie Jim Hughes pitched a brilliant 3-hitter only to come out on the short end of a 2-1 score. The game, however, definitely stamped Hughes as a leading contender for a Twins' pitching berth in 1975. A starting pitcher throughout most of his career, Jim has always turned in impressive strikeout ratios and now, with two seasons of AAA experience behind him, appears to have harnessed his great natural ability to the point where he's ready to step in as a winning pitcher in the major leagues. A baseball and football star in high school, Hughes also attended West Los Angeles Junior College for a time.

Born April 2, 1951, in St. Paul, Minnesota. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Roseville, Minnesota.

Tom Johnson's major league bow was an electrifying one last September when he won the first two games in which he relieved, saved the third and pitched two scoreless innings in the next ... finishing all four ball games and not allowing an earned run! After an All-Star season in the Southern League, where he was the top reliefer in the circuit, Johnson reported to the Twins on September 7, and got his first taste of major league competition against Chicago on September 10. In so doing, Tom became the eleventh Minnesota native to play for the Twins in their first fourteen seasons of operations in the Upper Midwest (he was preceded by, in order: Paul Giel, Fred Bruckbauer, Dick Stigman, Jerry Kindall, Charley Walters, George Thomas, Bob Gebhard, Dave Goltz, Jerry Terrell and Tom Burgmeier). Johnson has an outstanding curveball, a sinking fastball and can throw his changeup for strikes. He appears ready to team with Bill Campbell to give the Twins what could be the best righthand relief duo in baseball in 1975.

TWINS' TRAINER

Richard Dudley 'Dick' Martin has been with the Twins since 1972. He served a season as assistant to the veteran

George Lentz and then took over as head trainer on Lentz' retirement at the conclusion of the 1973 spring training season. Martin is a native of Lynchburg, Virginia, where he received a BA degree in Political Science and Physical Education from Lynchburg College. Dick served the 1971 season as trainer of the Twins' class A Carolina League farm at Lynchburg, and then attended graduate school in athletic training at Indiana University. Martin was a cross-country letterman at Lynchburg College, while also working as a student trainer for all the school's athletic teams. Dick is 25 years old, 6 ft., 175 lbs., and makes his home in the Twin Cities suburb of Burnsville with his bride, the former Diane Gerber of Melbourne, Florida. The couple was blessed with their first child, Laura Beth, born last October 18.

KELLY, Jay Thomas 'Tom' OF-1B No. 34

Born August 15, 1950, in Graceville, Minnesota. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws left-handed. Married. Lives in South Amboy, New Jersey.

Tom Kelly enjoyed the finest season of his seven-year professional career in 1974, and offers a versatility that could make him a decided asset to the Twins in '75. Throughout his career, Kelly has been a steady hitter and an accomplished defensive player . . . either at first base or in the outfield. Last season, his hitting stepped up a notch from the 'steady' category as he ranked among the Pacific Coast League's batting leaders during most of the campaign. A native Minnesotan since his father was a Northern League pitcher during the post-World War II period, Tom is attending his third Twins' spring training camp. He earned a Triple-A job off his fine showing in Orlando in 1972, and then returned to train with the Griffs again in 1973. Originally signed by the Seattle Pilots as their fourth choice in the June, 1968, draft selections, Kelly came to the Twins' system as a free agent in April of 1971.

KUSICK, Craig Robert 1B No. 22

Born September 30, 1948, in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 232 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Mayville, Wisconsin.

Voted the Twins' top rookie of 1974 by the Twin Cities baseball writers, huge Craig Kusick did a fine job at first base for the Quilici forces after overcoming a slow start that accompanied his arrival from Tacoma on June 5. After a two-week stretch as the regular first baseman, Kusick's batting average had dropped all the way to .189, and he was relegated to the bench for a couple of weeks. Reinstated as the regular on July 7, however, Craig held the job the rest of the way, contributing both timely power and consistent fielding to the Twins' late-season drive. An outfielder during his early professional seasons, Kusick switched to first base in 1973. An area product, Craig prepped at Greenfield, Wisconsin, High School before going on to three-sport stardom at Wisconsin State College, LaCrosse . . . after which he was signed as a free agent by the late Twins' scout Tom Fisher. Kusick, who played winter ball this year with the Aragua Tigers in Venezuela, has twice been named a 'Player of the Month' for his league by the Topps Chewing Gum Co. He was cited as the Carolina League's top star for June, 1971, and again last May in the Pacific Coast loop . . . a factor which hastened his recall to the Twins. After the season, on October 11, Craig had a bothersome bone spur removed from the back of his right hand, and then found himself to be 100% again during winter league action.

Born March 14, 1950, in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Vancouver.

The third baseman for the Southern League in their All-Star Game against the Twins in Jacksonville last summer, Canadian Dave McKay has been likened in his appearance and in his actions to veteran major league star Jim Fregosi. Like Fregosi, McKay started his professional career as a shortstop before being switched to third base . . . although it was as a second baseman for Omaha's Creighton University that Dave was first spotted by Twins' scout Bill Messmann.

Baseball was McKay's only sport at Creighton, but in a Vancouver high school that didn't maintain a baseball program, he starred in the rather unlikely threesome of basketball, soccer and rugby! Dave has good range and a fine arm from third base, and last year showed signs of developing into a major league hitter.

Born July 21, 1950, in Clarksville, Arkansas. Height: 6 ft., 4 in. Weight: 225 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in North Highlands, California.

An outfielder early in his professional career, big Dennis Myers was converted to pitching in 1970 when it became apparent that his strong arm provided a more likely entree for him to the major leagues. After a strikeout-studded career in the Oakland system, Myers came to the Twins last fall with outfielder Dan Ford in exchange for first sacker Pat Bourque. A four-sport star in high school in Sacramento, California, Dennis played baseball and basketball for American River Junior College there before he was selected by the A's as their ninth choice in the free-agent draft of June 5, 1969. In 1971, when he was named to the Midwest League's All-Star Team, Myers established a league record for most strikeouts in two consecutive games, 35. He K'd 17 Decatur batters, April 26, and came back with 18 against Quincy, May 3.

OLIVA, Pedro, Jr. 'Tony' DH No. 6
 Born July 20, 1941, in Pinar del Rio, Cuba. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Married. Lives in Bloomington, Minnesota.

The oldest Twin in point of service . . . he came up to stay on September 9, 1963, three-time batting champion Tony Oliva worked out diligently last winter to prepare himself for full-time service as the Twins' designated hitter in 1975. His special emphasis was on the strengthening of his right knee, which was operated upon last fall for the fifth time in the last nine years. Last season, Oliva took over as the team's career leader in basehits, while adding to his existing club records in singles (1198) and doubles. He also had four 4-hit games to up his club leadership in this respect to 26 such occasions. With five homeruns in the coming season, Tony-O will tie Bob Allison as the second most prolific homerun-hitter in Twins' annals at 211. Last June 27, Tony became the 89th member of baseball's '200-Homerun Club' when he belted a 1st-inning shot off Stan Bahnsen in Chicago. Oliva's DH average of .278 was fifth in the league in '74, but as a pinch-hitter, his .538 (7-for-13) was easily the best figure in the majors.

PAZIK, Michael Joseph 'Mike' P No. 41

Born January 26, 1950, in Lynn, Massachusetts. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 197 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Single. Lives in Lynn.

A Holy Cross graduate who was the New York Yankees' No. 1 choice in the secondary phase of the June, 1971, free-agent draft selections, tall Mike Pazik came into the Minnesota Twins' scheme of things last May 4, when he was acquired in exchange for pitcher Dick Woodson. So impressive was Pazik in stepping out of the collegiate ranks that the Yankees moved him up to AAA ball before the end of his first professional season, and his first win at that level was a 5-0, no-hitter over Rochester, August 31, 1971! Mike's been in AAA since that time, however, but trained with the Yankees each of the last three springs. Fifth in the Pacific Coast League's ERA tables last year, but in hopes that this will be his year to get over the final hurdle to the big leagues, Pazik spent the winter pitching for the Aragua club in Venezuela. The big fellow received his BA from Holy Cross in Sociology.

POEPPING, Michael Harold 'Mike' OF No. 35

Born August 7, 1950, in Pierz, Minnesota. Height: 6 ft., 6 in. Weight: 225 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Pierz.

Author of several titanic homeruns in the Southern League last year, Minnesotan Mike Poepping also settled into rightfield as his position and, as a result, now appears ready to make a determined bid for a major league job. Poepping started out as a pitcher in professional baseball, but spent most of his time at first or third base until 1974. Mike has eye-popping power and last season tied teammate Bob Gorinski for the Southern loop's homerun-leadership. That was the third time Poepping won or shared a league homerun crown. The largest player in the Twins' system, Mike has attended college in Minnesota during certain off-seasons, both at Brainerd Junior College and at St. Cloud State.

ROOF, Phillip Anthony

'Phil'

C No. 8

Born March 5, 1941, in Paducah, Kentucky. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 214 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Paducah.

The eldest Twin, Phil Roof is a veteran of seven major league affiliations but has spent his longest tenure with the Twins . . . since July 8, 1971, when he was acquired from Milwaukee in exchange for catcher Paul Ratliff. The 1975 season is Roof's seventeenth in the professional ranks, with all or parts of twelve of them in the majors and the last ten full seasons in the American League. The father of four daughters, including a pair of twins, Phil is a product of a baseball family. His brothers

Paul and Adrian were professional pitchers, and his cousins Lou and Eddie Haas played professionally also. Eddie, in fact, was a National League outfielder between 1957 and 1960, and is currently first base coach for the Atlanta Braves.

SMITH, William Coleman

'Coley'

P No. 40

Born September 8, 1951, in Duarte, California. Height: 5 ft., 11 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats both, throws left. Single. Lives in West Covina, California.

A hard-throwing lefty, Coley Smith has made great strides as a professional over the past couple of seasons.

Smith first attracted the attention of big league scouts when he pitched West Covina, California, Post No. 790 to the American Legion National Championship in 1970. During the Legion National Tournament, which was held in Klamath Falls, Oregon, that year, Coley pitched 21 consecutive scoreless innings and was named to the tourney's All-Star squad. The next spring, after starring for California's Mt.

San Antonio Junior College, Smith was signed to a Twins' pact by scout Jess Flores.

Born July 13, 1952, in Cortland, New York. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 181 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Miami, Florida.

Rapidly-improving hitting, coupled with his recognized defensive abilities, stamps Dale Soderholm as a player to be reckoned with on the Twins' scene in 1975. The slender shortstop, younger brother of Twins' third baseman Eric, was a Southern League All-Star selection last season as he continues to progress steadily and impressively each step up the professional ladder. After starring at Coral Park High School in Miami, Dale was made the Twins' first choice in the free-agent draft meeting of June 8, 1971.

SODERHOLM, Eric Thane3B No. 12

Born September 24, 1948, in Cortland, New York. Height: 5 ft., 11 in. Weight: 187 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Miami, Florida.

A full-fledged big league regular for the first time in 1974, Eric Soderholm added both solid defense and good batting-power to the Twins' lineup. He contributed eight 'game-winning hits' to the team's attack, but enjoyed his best day on May 4, vs. Detroit, when he turned in his first 2-homer game in the majors. Although a graduate of the University of Tampa and a student for a time at the University of South Florida, Soderholm played his college baseball for South Georgia Junior College, receiving All-

America honorable mention. He got a brisk start in the pro ranks when he earned All-Star honors in the Florida State League in 1968, and was cited as the league's Topps 'Player of the Month' that July. Eric shares a curious American League record set when he and Jay Johnstone homered to tie the mark for most homeruns by pinch-hitters in a game, both clubs, that against Chicago at the Met, October 4, 1972.

TERRELL, Jerry WayneSS-2B No. 7

Born July 13, 1946, in Waseca, Minnesota. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats both, throws right. Married. Lives in Simi Valley, California.

The Twins' 'Handy Andy,' Jerry Terrell represents a factor coveted by every major league team but one of which few can boast. A good hitter, fast and sound defensively at any position, Terrell last year gave the Twins solid protection at every infield position, plus the outfield. He enjoyed his finest day of the season on May 13, when he got four hits against Chicago and, on June 3, he tied a club record by laying down a pair of sacrifices in an extra-inning game with Boston. Just a week prior to that, on May 29, it was Jerry's heads-up thinking in the 13th inning that caused a balk and brought the Twins a 5-4 win over the Red Sox. Terrell was named to the majors' Rookie All-Star Team in 1973, and last spring continued to perform in all-star fashion as he led the Griffs in Grapefruit League play with an average of .476 (20-for-42). A native of southern Minnesota, Jerry is married to a girl from southern California and the couple's first child, Jeffrey Wayne, was born to them last October 22.

THOMPSON, Danny LeonSS No. 5

Born February 1, 1947, in Wichita, Kansas. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Cherokee, Oklahoma.

Hampered in the early-going of 1974 due to a muscle-pull in his left thigh . . . he was on the disabled list from April 28 through May 21 . . . Danny Thompson bounced back to give the Twins solid shortstopping over the balance of the season and to earn for himself the 1974 'Hutch Award.' That's an award voted annually by big league baseball writers and broadcasters to the player 'who best exemplifies the fighting spirit, desire and character of the late Fred Hutchinson,' a major league pitcher and manager from 1939 to 1964. Before the 1973 season, Thompson underwent a routine physical and was found to be suffering from chronic granulocytic leukemia. The ailment was discovered in its earliest stages, however, and his doctors are optimistic that it won't prevent Danny from leading a relatively normal life. The 'Hutch Award' puts the one-time Oklahoma State All-American in select company, as previous winners, starting with the first selectee in 1965, include Mickey Mantle, Sandy Koufax, Carl Yastrzemski, Al Kaline, Pete Rose, Tony Conigliaro, Joe Torre, Bobby Tolan and John Hiller.

Born October 14, 1949, in Cayey, Puerto Rico. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Cayey.

A righthander with good equipment and a great deal of experience, Juan Veintidos could be the 'steal' of the year in major league baseball. For seven seasons the property of the New York Mets' organization, Veintidos was released by them on July 4, 1973. That winter, he was spotted in Puerto Rican Winter League play by Tacoma Twins' manager, Cal Ermer, who strongly recommended his signing to Twins' farm chief George Brophy. Assigned to the Orlando affiliate last spring, Juan was so impressive that he was moved up to the AAA Tacoma roster after just three weeks of the Southern League season. He went on to become the official leader of Pacific Coast League pitchers in 1974, both overpowering the hitters with his outstanding fastball and threading the needle with his other pitches. Outstanding defensively as well, Veintidos has committed just seven errors in 163 professional games over seven active seasons. A onetime Business Administration major at Catholic University of Puerto Rico, Juan pitched this past winter for the Ponce Lions of the Puerto Rican League, turning in a 6-6, 3.75 log.

WILEY, Mark Eugene

P No. 27

Born February 28, 1948, in National City, California. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in LaMesa, California.

The top reliefer in the Pacific Coast League last year, Mark Wiley appears ready to capitalize on the great promise he's shown ever since he was named as the first winner of the 'Sherry Robertson Award' in 1970. That's an award named for the Twins' late vice-president and presented annually to the outstanding player in the club's minor league system. In 1974, his first season as a reliefer, Wiley led Coast loop hurlers in both pitching appearances and saves, and was named to the All-Star squad.

Named 'Athlete of the Year' at Cal Poly (Pomona) in 1970, when he was the nation's leading collegiate hurler with a 15-4 record, Mark was drafted second by the Twins that June and wound up as 'Player of the Year' in the New York-Pennsylvania League that summer when he led the league in six of the important pitching categories. One of those pitchers who can throw every day, Wiley is equipped with an excellent curveball and an above-average fastball.

FIFE, Danny Wayne

'Dan'

P No. 16

Born October 5, 1949, in Harrisburg, Illinois. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Clarkston, Michigan.

Coming off a disappointing 1974 season, tall Danny Fife could provide a big boost to the Twins' pitching staff with a return to his 1973 form. Now on the Tacoma roster, Fife was dispatched there last May 4, when it appeared he wouldn't get the work he needed with the Twins. An ex-University of Michigan baseball and basketball star, Danny came to the Twins from Detroit on March 27, 1973, in a trade for pitcher Jim Perry. The previous season, he'd been the workhorse of the Southern League, posting the circuit's top figures in starts (29) and innings-pitched.

LONCHAR, John Anthony

C No. 50

Born September 10, 1952, in Cleveland, Ohio. Height: 6 ft., 4 in. Weight: 200 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in Euclid, Ohio.

A freshman at the University of Michigan when Danny Fife was a senior, catcher John Lonchar is rated by his college coach, Mo Benedict, as every bit as good a major league prospect as two earlier Benedict catching luminaries at Michigan were when they entered the pros . . . Bill Freehan and Tom Lundstedt. The Twins' seventh choice in last June's regular-phase draft, Lonchar, who earned All-Big Ten recognition for the Wolverines and honorable mention on The Sporting News' Collegiate All-America squad, was promptly inked to a class AA pact by scout Floyd Baker.

LUNDSTEDT, Thomas Robert 'Tom' C No. 51

Born April 10, 1949, in Davenport, Iowa. Height: 6 ft., 4 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats both, throws right. Married. Lives in Scottsdale, Arizona.

Obtained by the Twins' Tacoma affiliate of the Pacific Coast League on December 5, 1974, in a trade with the Chicago Cubs' Wichita farm for outfielder Mike Adams, catcher Tom Lundstedt promises a strong fight for a Twins' berth in 1975. Lundstedt was a Cub briefly in each of the past two seasons, but was sidelined with a game right knee during most of 1974. He underwent surgery, in fact, in mid-season, but came back in time to get in some Arizona Instructional League action in the fall. Tom was the batterymate of Twin Dan Fife, and predecessor of John Lonchar, at the University of Michigan, where he was captain and 'Most Valuable Player' of the school's baseball squad his senior year, 1970. That June, he was selected by the Cubs as their first choice in the secondary phase of the free-agent draft meeting. The Cubs had had their eye on Lundstedt, who lived in St. Cloud, Minnesota, for a few years as a youngster, ever since his high school days in the Chicago suburb of Mount Prospect, Illinois. In his second pro season, he was one of four current Twins (Dan Ford, Bob Gorinski and Dennis Myers) to be named to the Midwest League All-Star Team. Tom was also an All-Star in the American Association in 1973, and that August 30, he played his first major league game for the Cubs in Pittsburgh. The big fellow currently resides in Arizona, where he has continued his studies at Arizona State University.

SCHULTZ, Kenneth David 'Ken' P No. 54

Born January 19, 1951, in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Height: 5 ft., 9 in. Weight: 165 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in Crystal, Minnesota.

After an impressive spring training stint with the Twins last year, relief pitcher Ken Schultz was hampered by arm trouble during much of the regular Southern League season, but came back strong toward the finish to register a creditable set of final statistics. Should Schultz be successful in his quest to make the Twins this year, he would become the twelfth Minnesota-born player to wear the club's uniform. In that context, however, Ken must vie with Tom Kelly and Mike Poepping . . . other Minnesota natives seeking berths on the club this year. Schultz was a standout on the University of Minnesota baseball squad a few years ago and was elected the captain of the team shortly before he decided to sign a professional contract for the 1973 season.

SCHUSTER, Frank ThomasP No. 55

Born March 18, 1952, in Aurora, Illinois. Height: 5 ft., 10 in. Weight: 163 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Single. Lives in Aurora.

Working as a full-time reliefer in 1974, lefty Frank Schuster may have taken the turn that will speed his ascent to the major leagues. Twins' manager Frank Quilici had Schuster in his Orlando camp last year and used him as a bullpener during exhibition play with highly pleasing results. That, then, became the southpaw's assignment during the Pacific Coast League season that followed, although he'd been primarily a starter throughout his three previous seasons of professional ball. Frank's good live fastball is what first brought him to the attention of Twins' scout Otto Bluege, who recommended his selection in the free-agent draft of June 4, 1970.

SHIPLEY, Ted AllenSS No. 53

Born March 30, 1953, in Chattanooga, Tennessee. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in Chattanooga.

The Twins' first choice in last June's free-agent draft, shortstop Ted Shipley proceeded to sign a contract with the Lynchburg affiliate and then stepped into the tough Carolina League competition and played like a veteran. A standout at Vanderbilt University, where he gained All-America mention, Shipley not only hits well . . . he's an accomplished hit-and-run man . . . but he can run and throw, as well.

Born September 6, 1950, in Los Angeles, California. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Gardena, California.

Groomed as a relief pitcher ever since he joined the Charlotte club of the Western Carolinas League in 1972, big righthander Gail Stone teamed with Bill Clauss and Ralph Dick to give the Lynchburg Twins the top relief staff in the Carolina League last year. Stone prepped at Harbor College in Wilmington, California, before he was signed as a free agent by Twins' scout Jess Flores. Gail is presently on the Tacoma, Pacific Coast League, roster.

Born October 23, 1949, in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Height: 5 ft., 11 in. Weight: 180 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in St. Cloud, Minnesota.

Born in Iowa but reared in Minnesota, where he was captain of the baseball, basketball and football teams in his senior year at St. Cloud Tech High School, husky Greg Thayer came to the Twins' organization after spending two seasons in the minor league system of the San Francisco Giants. Minnesota scout Marv Olson, who'd watched Thayer in his days at St. Cloud State College, contacted Greg after he'd drawn his release from the Giants' organization and signed him to a 1974 contract with the Wisconsin Rapids club of the class A Midwest League. So impressive was Thayer in spring training at Melbourne, Florida, last year, however, he was advanced all the way to class AA Orlando and became one of the standout pitchers of the Southern League season. His three shutouts tied four other pitchers for the league-lead in that category. Greg was drafted 32nd by the Giants in the free-agent picks of June 8, 1971, and led the Pioneer League in wins and win-percentage (.818) in his first season.

WALTON, Daniel James 'Danny' C No. 52

Born July 14, 1947, in Los Angeles, California. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 200 lbs. Bats both, throws right. Married. Lives in LaPuente, California.

A switch-hitter for a full season in 1974, longball-hitting Danny Walton returns to the Twins in the role of a catcher this year, and is also expected to add strength to the club as a pinch-hitter and designated hitter. After truly astounding success in his try at hitting from both sides of the plate in the Pacific Coast League (he hit 21 of his home-runs lefthanded), Walton volunteered to tackle the tough catching chores during the Puerto Rican Winter League season at Arecibo. Reports are that he handled the position well and that he continued to hit . . . batting .303 and leading the league with 14 homers. Danny came to the Twins from the New York Yankees on October 31, 1972, in a trade for catcher Rick Dempsey. He remained with the Twins until August 17, 1973, when his contract was assigned to Tacoma. Walton's professional background goes all the way back to baseball's original free-agent draft of June 8-9, 1965, when he was selected in the 51st round by the Houston Astros.
